

Citizenship

Citizenship = the condition of a person belonging to a country as political and juridical entity, and has therefore particular rights and duties (such as the right to vote).

This term is sometimes used as synonymous of nationality, although the term nationality is generally used only to indicate that a person is part of a community with a national identity.

In most forms it is asked for the citizenship of the country you have rights and responsibilities.